

Volunteer Panda Exhibit Guide at Metropolis at Metrotown

The public art display was created by French artist Paulo Grangeon, and although it has been showcased around the world in over 100 exhibits, the upcoming exhibition in Metro Vancouver will be its first appearance in North America. A total of 888 hand-crafted papier-mâché giant pandas will be displayed at Metropolis at Metrotown shopping mall this summer as part of a campaign to raise awareness of wildlife conservation, pandas, and sustainability.

The Burnaby Neighbourhood House (BNH) is looking for volunteers at the Grand Court of Metropolis at Metrotown from July 10th – August 9th, 2018. Volunteers will be responsible for opening/closing procedures, maintaining an engaging atmosphere, have an understanding about the Burnaby Neighbourhood House programs and services. Other duties required are line- up control, report damaged displays, assist customers with taking photos and answer basic mall inquiries.
